

Janeen Bryant

EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP SUMMARY

Based in North Carolina, Janeen is a leading community engagement advocate and catalyst for building organizational capacity, an inter-sectional educator, facilitator and nonprofit leader. Presents nationally on topics ranging from authentic community building, creating relationships across difference, attracting new audiences, empathy in museums and critical conversations for internal development. Known widely as a strategic facilitator and trainer, she designs differentiated curriculum and experiential learning activities to make social change history relevant and accessible to any learner.

KEY EXPERIENCE

Principal Consultant & Founder Facilitate Movement, LLC 2014-Current

Community-centered education through collaborative process development. Specialization in proactive strategies guiding institutions to address shifting demographics with responsive leadership that strengthens long-term vision, cultural competency, and empathy.

- Provide remote and on-site project planning, community engagement and leadership development services for museums, small businesses, and nonprofits
- Specializing in intercultural communication, inclusion and equity in design for long term audience engagement

Regional Director, South Leadership for Educational Equity (2015-16)

Managed Leadership and Design teams of 3 to 10 people for Charlotte, Memphis, Jacksonville and Mississippi

- Created, designed and implemented differentiated projects. Topics ranged from Restorative Justice, Equity in Elected Leadership, Social Entrepreneurship, and Nonprofit Management.
- Directed the growth of LEE services in three additional U.S. regions; and the protection and expansion of the LEE brand in those regions

VP, Education, Levine Museum of the New South (2009-2015)

As a part of senior leadership team set vision and priorities for programmatic offerings aligned with a variety of exhibition and community projects

- Spearheaded community, regional and national partnerships in the pursuit of Museum mission including more than 50 collaborations
- Created, facilitated and evaluated dialogue programs on and off-site
- Built and sustained authentic relationships with community stakeholders on initiatives such as LGBTQ Perspectives on Equality, Destination Freedom: Civil Rights Then and Now, and Latino New South Project

Lead Teacher, Teach For America Briarwood Academy (2004-2007)

Supervised; received STAR Teacher accreditation for individual classroom and grade level gains of 1.5 years growth for all students through implementation of a rigorous academic curriculum

- Utilized Adaptive Leadership Training and Model
- Supervised team of five veteran and new teachers
- Served as liaison between school personnel and Spanish-speaking parents

EDUCATION

Claremont Graduate University Claremont, CA
2011

NextGen Museum Leaders Certification

Montreat College Charlotte, NC

2010

Master of Science, Management and Leadership

Davidson College Davidson, NC

2004

Bachelor of Arts, Anthropology: Ethnic Studies
Concentration Bonner Scholar for Community Service, Kemp Scholar for distinguished research, Lilly Theological Vocation Fellow, Davidson Black Alumni Network Award for Service, Davidson in India Study Abroad participant, Domestic Exchange participant at Spelman College

PROFESSIONAL AFFILIATIONS

- Museums and Race, Steering Committee
- American Association of Museums,
- Girl Talk Foundation, Inc.
- Lead With Intention (selected Participant 2014-2015)
- Leadership for Educational Equity, Public Policy Fellow (2013-2014)
- YWCA, 1902 Society, Founding Member
- Community Building Initiative, Leaders Under 40, (selected Participant 2012)